

Osiris to open Dublin Office

Introduction

We are happy to announce that Osiris is in the process of opening a new office in Dublin in Ireland. Ireland has long been one of the forerunners of low tax options in Europe, and also has a very strong fund management and administration business environment.

Justin Gillespie has recently relocated to Ireland and will head up the office there. Osiris will initially offer only corporate formation and administration services, but the intention is to develop this into a fully fledged fund administration office in the near future. This will enable clients to take advantage of the sophisticated services available in Dublin, as well as have operations in a more central time zone.

We will keep you advised of new developments over time.
